MISS MISSILE homes in on a pleasantly surprised Air Force general and, direct or not, it's obviously a hit. Brig. Gen. H. G. Thorne, arriving Tuesday for today's Buddy Flight events, received the greeting at Palm Springs Airport from Olga Korzen. Columnist Koterba, 4 Others Killed in Crash of Light Plane

SEATTLE — Five men, including United Features Syndicate writer Ed Koterba, rode a light plane to their deaths off the Washington coast near the Olympic Peninsula Indian village of LaPush Tuesday. Three bodies were recovered. Search was continued today for the other two.

Missing were Koterba and the pilot. At first there was some doubt as to whether Koterba was aboard, but a camera case engraved with his columnist's name was found bobbing in the waves.

The Coast Guard said "there is no reason to believe he was not aboard."

In Washington, President Kennedy expressed his regret at the loss of Koterba and called him "a fine newspaperman."

One of the dead was the Kansas City Star travel editor and music critic, Ned M. Trimble, 34. Koterba, 42, of Bethesda, Md.,

Clark Assigned School Design

Architect John Porter Clark was commissioned Tuesday night by the Palm Springs Unified School District board to prepare plans for a new elementary school in Section 2, north of Palm Springs.

Clark, who designed the Agua Caliente School in the California Dream Homes tract, will produce a modified version of the Agua Caliente design. Planned costs would be approximately $480,000, plus land costs.

The board awarded a $74,772 contract to Kretz and Wilson Construction Co. for renovation of 14 rooms in three Ramon Road wings of Palm Springs High School.

The job, bid for a basic contract price of $89,073, minus $14,301 in alternates, calls for new lighting, heating and cooling control, plus installation of acoustical tile ceilings and installation of wall boards.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Getting out a newspaper is tough enough without incidents like this.

A man came into the Las Vegas Sun news room Tuesday and said he had given a newsman two pictures several weeks ago but hadn't seen them in the paper.

He walked over to the managing editor's desk, scooped up all the page layouts, wire copy and local stories and ran out the front door, yelling back, "You'll get this stuff back when I see my pictures in the paper."

"We don't even know what pictures he was talking about," said a reporter.

Pool Deaths Blamed on Boy's Topple

The Compton father and son who were drowned in a Palm Springs hotel swimming pool Tuesday were both non-swimmers, local police disclosed today.

Police speculated that Edward M. Haft, 42, and his son, Mark, 5, were floating on an air-filled rubber raft in the deep end of the pool at the Lone Palm Hotel, 1276 N. Palm Canyon Dr., when the boy fell off.

His father probably attempted to rescue him, but being unable to swim himself consequently drowned, police believe.

The pair were sighted floating on the raft, police said, at approximately 10:30 a.m. by another visitor in the hotel, William Olsen of Upland, when he glanced out of his bungalow.

About 25 minutes later Olsen, upon leaving his room, saw them at the bottom of the pool.

He notified the hotel manager, Alice Blackburn, who in turn sought help from two other visitors, Harry Harris of San Gabriel and Victor Taylor of San Jose. These men pulled the victims out of the pool as the first police arrived on the scene.

Police said it was unfortunate no one called them until 15 minutes after the victims were sighted at the bottom of the pool.

Despite the efforts of firemen's rescuer units, police, and two Palm Springs doctors, it was too late to save the pair.

Artificial respiration was applied for more than 30 minutes and the doctors performed emergency wind pipe surgery in a vain rescue effort. The pair were pronounced dead at 11:45 a.m.

Haft's wife, Ethel, was out shopping at the time the accident occurred. She could not be found and police had to wait until she returned to the hotel nearly three hours later to tell her of her husband's and son's death. Two ministers stood by to assist them in breaking the news.

Ship Strike Probed

FACTFINDERS IN ALL-DAY MEET AFTER SECRET SESSION

NEW YORK — Federal factfinders, a secret session with leaders of striking seamen and owners of dock-bound ships behind them, resume public hearings into the nationwide maritime strike today.

The off-the-record meeting Tuesday night brought together leaders of five major striking seafaring unions and shipping line representatives. It represented an attempt by the factfinders to carry out an extra-curricular assignment from President Kennedy to try and get negotiations started again.

There have not been any formal negotiations since the second day of the 13-day old walkout by the men who sail America's merchant fleet.

The first full day of public hearings moves today to an air-conditioned room at the Edison Hotel. Only a brief organizational meeting was held Tuesday.

David L. Cole, chairman of the presidentially appointed inquiry board, said no announcement would be made on Tuesday night's private talks.

By law the panel is confined to gathering facts on the labor dispute and reporting to the President, but Cole said Kennedy gave the panel the task of trying to get the shipowners and unions talking again.

Report Due Friday

The fact-finding panel's report to Kennedy is due Friday. Indications are the hearing could last until then, Kennedy has been expected to have his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, seek a federal court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act which would send the 75,000 strikers back to work for an 80-day cooling off period.

However, two of the striking unions — the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union — have claimed that because their members are officers and supervisory employees they are outside Taft-Hartley jurisdiction.

If their challenge before the panel is upheld in court—and they threatened to go to court—even an injunction to send striking seamen back to work wouldn't untie the ships because they need officers and engineers to sail.

'Grave Mistake' To Doubt West Firmness: JFK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy bluntly warned the Russians today they would be making a "grave mistake" if they underestimate allied determination to stand firm against any Soviet "threats or fresh aggressive acts" in Berlin.

He also said the American people must understand that this "Soviet - manufactured" Berlin crisis posed a grave threat "to the peace and security of Europe and of ourselves."

Kennedy, in his first news conference since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev stoked up the Berlin crisis in his Vienna talks with the President, did not rule out the possibility of negotiations with the Russians.

"We agree that there is unfinished business to be settled as concerns Germany," he said, but added that this should come about through free elections and not a unilateral Russian abrogation of their responsibility.

He, in effect, accused Russia of double-talk.

"Discussions will be profitable if the Soviets will accept in Berlin—and indeed in Europe—a self-determination, which they profess in other parts of the world, and if they will work sincerely for peace rather than the extension of power," he said.

Peace, he said, now reigns in Germany and in Berlin. But he declared that "if it is distributed, it will be a direct Soviet responsibility."

Kennedy said former Secretary of State Dean Acheson is conducting a review of potential U.S. plans to meet the Soviet threat.

He was asked specifically if the United States was considering partial mobilization.

The President replied that he had not seen any proposal for mobilization. But he said various Berlin steps will be discussed this week, and "of course we will be considering a whole variety of measures which might be taken."

Meeting Is Possible

He also did not rule out the possibility that he might meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle if such a meeting on Berlin would be useful. But he had no plans for further meetings with Khrushchev.

Before Kennedy spoke, Khrushchev said in Moscow that any Soviet treaty signed with East Germany would guarantee allied access to Berlin. But he also said the East Germans would control the access routes.

Indian Payment Greases Track For Air Funds

Palm Springs has formally paid $2,979,022.50 to local Indians for land at the airport.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker delivered the city's voucher for that amount to the Bureau of Indian Affairs office here this morning and in so doing moved the city one step closer to receipt of $554,000 in federal airport aid.

Earlier, City Manager Dan Wagner gave a written agreement concerning the federal funds to two prominent FAA representatives who paid him a surprise visit Tuesday. The City Council had previously approved it.

Bunker said he had immediately sent word of today's payment to the FAA and expected the federal funds to arrive within a month.

He emphasized this would be only the first stage of government help. It is expected that more than $1,000,000 in federal funds will eventually be forthcoming. And if the city goes ahead with plans to buy some 80 acres of Indian land adjacent to the 20 acres it has just purchased, even more help is to be expected.

The visit to Wagner came from George Digioris, director of air facilities for the FAA, and Charles Benson, a regional director.

They sought to get the written agreement signed so that they could push processing of the aid before the end of the current fiscal year, which expires Friday.

Wagner said that Digioris was the official who was most responsible for the decision which led to federal aid to the city for the airport development.

News In Brief

WASHINGTON — The head of a private watchdog association set up by brokers and dealers to police the sale of securities endorsed today a proposed $750,000 study of the nation's stock markets by the Securities & Exchange Commission.

William H. Claffin, chairman of the board of governors of the National Association of Securities Dealers, told a House commerce subcommittee the proposed SEC investigation "may well be beneficial in the light of the growth and increased activity in the securities markets."

WASHINGTON — Bombers of the Air Force Strategic Air Command were faced with possible grounding last January because of failure of a key part in KC135 tanker planes which supply them fuel, it was disclosed today.

Col. Stephen P. Dillon, director of Air Force procurement for the Oklahoma City Air Materiel Area, told a House armed services subcommittee that the Air Force had to rush through an emergency order to redesign the faulty part.

"It was a question of keeping SAC from being grounded," he told the congressmen.

WASHINGTON — GOP congressional leaders were determined today to press for an "absolutely firm" stand on Berlin and a strong declaration against Red China's recognition or admission to the United Nations.

Both viewpoints may be set forth this afternoon when the Republican leaders hold their weekly meeting following President Kennedy's own news conference.

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials hoped today that talks with pro-Western Gen. Phoumi Nosa-van of the royal Laotian government would clarify the muddled political picture in strife-torn Laos.

Phoumi, defense minister and deputy premier in the Vientiane government, was scheduled to arrive here late today from Switzerland where he met with other principal Laotian factions.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo — The unification of the Congo was threatened today by reports that troops of leftist leader Antoine Gizenga might start a new offensive into north Katanga.

One report said that United Nations soldiers already had disarmed one of Gizenga's patrols which crossed the Katangese frontier.

planes today controlled a 65-acre brush fire that burned six summer homes in the Camp Angeles recreation area of San Bernardino National Forest.

The blaze started near Camp Angeles' Shadow Lake about 15 miles northeast of here Tuesday afternoon and fanned by strong winds quickly burned over brush and small timber.

WILMINGTON — The passenger liner Matsonia, two freighters and a tanker today were picketed in Los Angeles' Long Beach harbors as the national maritime strike entered its 13th day.

Two other American flagships, the Steel Voyager and the Green Mountain State, arrived in Port Tuesday but were not picketed, apparently because of their military cargoes.

Press Club Election Held

Cliff Brown was named president of the Desert Press Club Tuesday night, succeeding George Ringwald.

Elected directors at the annual meeting in the Biltmore Hotel were Pat Raymond, Jerry London, George Laine, Jerry Brittingham and Brown, with the new board electing the new president.

Other officers named were Brittingham, first vice president; Raymond, second vice president; London, secretary, and Laine, treasurer.

Regular meetings of the Desert Press Club will resume in the fall.

COUNCIL MEETS ON BUDGET

By LARRY O'NEIL

"Listen, you just keep talking and you'll make the sale." Advice to young salesmen.

Tireless members of the Palm Springs City Council — who met Monday night until 12:30 a.m. — took their stations Tuesday night and had a long talk.

In a budget session to consider changes in the 1961-62 city budget recommended by City Manager Dan Wagner, the councilmen approved these pre-digested addendums to alacrity:

Addition to the city manager's office working budget of $1,408; allotment of $408 for City Hall sprinklers; $2,500 general appropriation for health insurance; $2,000 addition to state compensation premiums (as set by the state); $2,500 into the business license reserve; $2,500 for animal regulation (Humane Shelter); $1,104 for city engineer; $2,900 for street lights.

They also approved $15,701 for the Police Department, including a $43 per month raise for Police Chief August G. Kettmann and authorization of two new police clerks, bringing the general fund total to $25,028.

They then each held forth on their view of the request of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce for a working budget of $112,500, an increase of $32,500 from the present $80,000 budget.

What was evidenced from some 90 minutes of declarations concerning the necessity of increasing chamber activities was that the chamber can probably count on at least a $10,000 increase this year, giving it a $90,000 operational fund.

Vote July 10

Actual voting on the budget will take place July 10 and last night's session was what amounted to a familiarization, brain-picking briefing, with the informal vote endorsing the $90,000 budget going 5 to 2.

Councilwoman Mary Carlin ("The chamber's doing a good job, but when we're cutting police and fire department requests, I feel we should cut down on the Chamber and add to the police and firemen") and Ted McKinney

("I'm not against the chamber; it's just the fact that we've got to spread the money around and all departments could use more") voting against the $10,000 increase.

There was no indication of a Fire Department request.

Vociferous in their battle for the full chamber increase as requested were Councilmen George Beebe and Harry Paisley.

Beebe took the attitude that some chamber representatives "listened" to requests of other departments for increase but were consistent in turning a deaf ear to the chamber.

"I've seen the invaluable work they do," said the councilman. "I think they represent the promote the town very well. The chamber came in and showed us their job performance and I think you have to say whether it's good or bad, but you've never moved one way or the other, any of you," Beebe told the body as a whole.

U. S. Paid Defense Firm Ads Blasted in House

WASHINGTON — Congressmen today asked the House to make defense contractors stop advertising their products at the taxpayers' expense.

Key appropriations committee members told the House that such ads in trade and technical publications cost the Defense Department $10 million a year, and breach security to boot.

However, some committee members felt the proposed limitation was too strong. It was put into a pending bill carrying nearly $43 billion to run the armed services in the 12 months beginning Saturday.

The committee pointed out that Vice Adm. Hayman G. Rickover had testified that "secret after secret was given away by advertisements taken by manufacturers of various parts and components."

Rickover recently told the committee that since he has never heard of private citizens in the market for missiles or atomic submarines, he saw "no reason why the government should pay to advertise such items."

Under present law, advertising in technical magazines and semi-official service publications can be charged to contracts as a cost of business, although institutional advertising cannot.

Other congressional news: Stocks: Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr., D-Ill., said the booming over-the-counter stock market is a "natural area for manipulation and rigging." Mack's House commerce subcommittee summoned William H. Claffin, board chairman of the National Association of Securities Dealers, to testify in the committee's hearings into stock market irregularities.

Lynn Morton Arraigning Set

LOS ANGELES — Socially prominent businessman Lynn Morton, 37, will be arraigned Friday on charges of beating his wife to death in their swank Wilshire District home last June 17.

The County Grand Jury indicted Morton Tuesday on a charge of murdering Mrs. Margaret Ann Morton, also 37.

Three of the Mortons' four children testified Tuesday before the jury returned the indictment.

ITCH, AIMLESSNESS

Cool Boredom May Make You Sick

NEW YORK — Two disease-causers of these days are air-conditioning and boredom. One affects the skin, the other attitudes. This news was laid before the 110th annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Marvin E. Chernosky of Houston claimed to be the first doctor to recognize air-conditioning disease. It is an itch due to the skin being kept always dry by air-conditioning in the office, in the home and in the car which takes the victim back and forth between office and home.

Boredom as a disease was advanced by Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth of Harvard University. Boredom is coupled with "aimlessness and lack of meaning and purpose," and these, he said, make up "the great sickness of our age."

"Our preoccupation with the exploration of outer space, coupled with the almost willful avoidance of learning how to understand and control ourselves, is the dramatic expression of our social sickness."

"Medicine has made enormous strides in alleviating pain and prolonging life. It is now confronted with the task of enlarging its function to include giving meaning to the life it makes possible."

He was advocating improved mental health for everyone, and he specifically included the doctors he was addressing.

VANDERBILT BELIEVED DRINKING WHEN DIED

SAN FRANCISCO — A coroner's report showed Tuesday that millionaire George Vanderbilt, 47, had enough alcohol in his blood to intoxicate him when he plunged to his death from the 10th floor of a San Francisco hotel Saturday.

Dr. Henry Turkel said tests showed .33 per cent alcohol content in the blood of the scion of one of America's wealthiest families.

Louise Vanderbilt, 41, whom he married last March, had told police her husband had given up alcohol. However, the coroner said there was "other evidence" of possible drinking by Vanderbilt the afternoon before his death.

Turkel said attempts were being made to determine whether Vanderbilt jumped or fell from his window of his suite in the Mark Hopkins Hotel. An inquest into the plunge was set for July 6.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, the heir's fourth wife, told police she was in the bathroom at the time of the tragedy.

City Approves $2,500 for Humane Society

The Palm Springs Humane Society today has a promise from the City Council for an allocation of $2,500 during the month of July to aid in the cost of maintaining its local animal shelter.

The fund was voted Monday night after nearly an hour's discussion in which the long standing feud between supporters of the Humane Society and the Palm Springs Animal Protective League was again aired at length.

Cost-conscious councilmen who still are working on their new city budget were at first reluctant to grant funds to the humane group and discussion broke down into bickering that brought sharp criticism of the Animal Protective League's proposed presentation to the city of a new animal shelter before the matter was settled.

Mrs. Mary Jones and her actor-singer husband Allan headed the Humane Society delegation in strong protest against expenditure of city funds for a shelter they held was much more expensive than was justified.

But their protests were backed off by council insistence that it was good business for the city to spend $15,000 on the facility offered by the Animal Protective League because the property involved was worth $30,000 without the building the city would get.

The wind-up on the matter brought the hint a truce might be effected between the two warring groups. Mrs. Jones asked that the council make its decision on her fund request strictly on merit and handle the Protective League's shelter deal as a completely separate matter.

In other actions the City Council: Approved a Planning Commission recommendation for a change of zone sought by Travis Rogers on 2½ acres of property west of the Ranch Club for residential development.

Heard a request from Community Day Nursery of Palm Springs to lease city property and letters of support from Kiddie Kollege and Palm Springs Play School. Mrs. Frank Bennett heads a group pushing a non-profit plan to care for children of needy families.

Approved resolutions for change in ownership of television cables to the Transcontinent Communications Systems and acceptance of property deeds needed for widening of North Palm Canyon Drive.

University's Desert Area Named for Boyd

The University of California's Deep Canyon Research Area near Palm Springs, described as "a living laboratory of desert plants and animals," has been named the Philip L. Boyd Desert Research Center by the University Regents.

The action honors Regent Boyd of Riverside, who has donated much of the new center's land and has been active in its development. Boyd is a Riverside property management and land development executive and is director of the Security National Bank of Los Angeles.

The desert reserve consists of 10,000 acres of federal and university land between Palm Desert and Palm Springs, adjoining the Palm-to-Pines highway. The university owns approximately 3,200 acres and will have use of the federal land under a cooperative arrangement with the U.S. Bureau of Land Management.

University President Clark Kerr noted that with the present boom underway in desert real estate development, it is essential that some undisturbed land be set aside for basic research on desert lands.

Chancellor Herman T. Spieth of the Riverside campus noted that currently in progress are studies of the big horn sheep which use the Deep Canyon's water holes; an old Indian trail; the behavior of frogs and toads when the desert streams dry up; water evaporation of plants; reptile adaptation to extreme heat; and numerous other studies of plant and animal adaptations to desert conditions.

"The Deep Canyon Area will enable scientists to study the biological changes that occur between the sands of the desert floor and the pines on the mile-high canyon's roof," Dr. Spieth said. The researchers are currently operating out of an especially-equipped truck, called a Desert Mobile Laboratory, until construction of a small laboratory with sleeping quarters is completed.

Regent Boyd has been a Chamber of Commerce secretary, newspaper editor, banker, rancher, and hotel operator. His public posts include serving as the first mayor of Palm Springs, assemblyman from Riverside County, and a member of the State Public Works Board.

He was a member of the Riverside Board of Freeholders which drew up that city's new charter. In 1954 he won the Elk's Club Award as Riverside's outstanding citizen. He has served as chairman of the Southern Tax Committee of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Resort Reports

... high school teachers selected to spend a school year in intensive study of the Russian language at Indiana University starting in September is Miss Hilda E. Haigaz of 38-169 Paradise Way, Cathedral City. Miss Haigaz will spend 36 weeks studying Russian in part of a program set up under the National Defense Education Act.

Mapping Plans

... to open a welding and auto repair shop in Desert Hot Springs this fall is Jack Helms. Jack is a desert enthusiast who built his resort area home "from the ground up" with pick and shovel, hammer and saw. His daughter and son-in-law, Norma and Bill Ellis of Wilmington, were just here for a weekend visit.

Another busy

... Palm Springs High School teacher is Robert Schnabel, who spent last week attending a methods conference for business teachers that was held at the University of Southern California. Also participating in the sessions at Los Angeles was Lola Gardner, another member of the P.S. High business department. It's reported they got the latest dope on audio-visual aids in teaching their subjects.

An indefinite stay

... in Mexico is planned by Dolly Reiser of Desert Hot Springs. She expects to fly to Guadalajara for an extended vacation that starts the last week of July.

A good outing

... is planned for four Palm Springs Little League baseballers by Joe Henderson. The word is that Joe is taking Bert Wiefels, Ricky Henderson, Gregory Hough and Tommy Kieley in to Los Angeles for a tour of the Ford assembly plant (what else would be proper?) and then an evening watching either the Angels or Dodgers against one of their major league opponents.

ALMANAC

Today's Wednesday, June 28, the 179th day of the year with 186 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is in its full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1491, Henry VIII king of England, was born.

In 1864, Congress repealed the fugitive slave law of 1850.

In 1902, Richard Rogers, American composer and theatrical producer, was born.

In 1927, Lt. Lester Maitland and Albert Hegenberger made the first successful air flight from San Francisco to Hawaii.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the reconquest of Luzon in the Philippines.

A thought for today: German philosopher Immanuel Kant said, "In the judgments of pure reason, opinion has no place."

Water District Annexation Blueprinted

COACHELLA — Terms to cover the addition of 112 square miles of territory in Imperial County to the Coachella Valley County Water District were set up Tuesday.

And it appears a virtual certainty that annexation of the area comprising nearly 72,000 acres, including the Salton Sea resort developments, would be undertaken at an early date.

Joan Davis Envelope Will Presented Court

LOS ANGELES — A will written on the back of an envelope leaving the bulk of Joan Davis' $1-million estate to her daughter and grandson was submitted Tuesday at a Superior Court hearing.

The will, written in pencil and presented by attorneys for Miss Davis' 27-year-old daughter Beverly Wills Colbert read:

"I Joan Davis leave to Lorena Watts (her maid) $10,000; $10,000 to my mother; $10,000 to my father; and the rest to my grandson and daughter providing it does not go to my son-in-law Allan Grossman." Mrs. Colbert and A. Grossman are divorced.

Superior Judge Newcomb Condee said the will did not appear to have been witnessed. He said the date "Fri Aug 1956" lacked three necessary elements—the full month and year.

The daughter is contesting a will dated Nov. 19, 1941 leaving Miss Davis' estate to her ex-husband Si Wills. They were divorced in 1947.

NPS Fish Fry Garners $200

NORTH PALM SPRINGS — A crowd of more than 150 persons turned out for a fish fry program staged as a fund-raising benefit for the North Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, Inc., according to Al Scharf, president.

Scharf said the affair, staged at the Whitewater Trout Farm, brought a profit of about $200 to the chamber. T. D. Pendergast was chairman of the project and Roy Rightmire was in charge of cooking and serving.

It was reported to water district board members that a majority of the property owners involved have petitioned for the annexation and there has not been a single protest to the action.

The blueprint under which the annexation may be carried out parallels annexation requirements of the Metropolitan Water District which serves Colorado River water to Southern California coastal areas.

This is a provision that the annexed territory must pay back taxes as though it had been a member of the water district since its formation some 40 years ago.

Kaiser Estate At $51 Million

OAKLAND, Calif. — The late Henry J. Kaiser Jr. left an estate valued at more than $51 million, it was disclosed Tuesday in Alameda County Superior Court.

Kaiser, who died May 2 at the age of 44 following a long illness, was the son of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser and an executive in the far-flung Kaiser enterprises.

More than $46 million of the estate will go to the Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation, a charitable trust.

Kaiser's widow, Mrs. Barbara Lillian Kaiser, asked and was granted $5,000 a month to support her and her son, Henry III, 8, until the estate is probated.

The allowance will come from current cash assets of a $3 million trust fund set up by Kaiser in 1949.

Long Holiday Weekends OK'd

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has directed all government departments and agencies to adopt a lenient attitude toward granting annual leave to federal workers on July 3 so they can enjoy a longer Fourth of July weekend.

In a memorandum to department and agency heads, Kennedy said leave should be granted to all employees requesting it, except where their attendance was required in the interest of national security or other public interest.

Since July 4 falls on Tuesday, the workers by getting off on July 3 would be able to have a four-day holiday.

City Budget

"It's like the animal group last night," said the councilman. "You all acted as if you don't think it's right, but you gave the animal shelter (Humane Shelter) $2,500—and one of the (city) officials that spoke to us seemed to agree with this."

Benefits

Paisley emphasized the work done by the chamber that goes virtually unrecognized, citing the placing of Palm Springs high in priority on the State's road building list, realizing otherwise lost area road construction, and service in the census - taking when the census office "broke down."

"Hotel occupancy in the United States was down to 6 to 7 per cent this year — were we down in Palm Springs?" asked Paisley. "The trouble is the people that pay the biggest dues are the ones that are for the chamber and the people that drop out and pay nothing are against it."

The supporters of the increased budget for the chamber pointed out that 34 stores on Palm Canyon Drive are standing empty, with Beebe adding that there will be "four more this month."

"It frightened me to look in (a Los Angeles newspaper) last Sunday and see what looked like a book (the travel section) picturing wonderful places like Mexico, Honolulu, Canada, Europe. We are a tourist community and we've got to keep ourselves before the people through newspaper and magazine advertising and promotion."

"We get an awful lot for the dollar we spend down here (on promotion)," he stated.

Councilman Kenneth Kirk declared that "Somebody has got to stop raising taxes in America." Beebe said that bringing people into Palm Springs "pays for the taxes."

Paisley agreed that "Taxes are nothing if you're doing the business to pay them."

Current Interest

Mayor Frank Bogert said that, as a realtor, he was "astounded every day at the number of people who come here to do things, buy things."

The mayor, endorsing a chamber increase, said that Palm Springs is considered a "white spot" in the country to many businessmen, who will invest here and not anywhere else in the nation at this time.

He mentioned an organization about to initiate golf course construction here as one of the "only Palm Springs" group and said their stock immediately went from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 upon announcement of upcoming construction here.

"It's because we're doing something," the mayor said. "It's not just accidental."

Mayor Bogert steadfastly advocated increased publicity and advertising by the city through the chamber, rather than convention service activities.

Bogert, a figure in the establishment of a posh beauty farm set for Palm Springs, said that the new facility has scheduled a $25,000 publicity and advertising pre - opening budget, comparing the figure to the Chamber of Commerce budget.

No firm action could be taken at the meeting and there was no apparent change of heart on the part of any councilman.

Despite near - filibustering occasional stands and sometimes occasional accusation - hurling, it appeared that the council had even before the meeting arrived at the $30,000 compromise figure.

It appears that will be the approved Chamber of Commerce budget when official votes are cast in July.

MRS. ADLAND ASKS REVERSAL

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Florence Adland, the mother of teenage night club singer Beverly Adland, asked the District Court of Appeals Tuesday to reverse a lower court's decision that she contributed to the delinquency of her daughter.

The court took the motion under submission.

Jack (Joe) Webb (Friday) Planning Return to TV

EDITOR'S NOTE: Vernon Scott is on vacation. Jack Webb, who began his career in radio and television, and moved on to movies, writes his feelings about what is going on with TV.

By JACK WEBB
HOLLYWOOD — It — Who says I'm through with television? Just because I've been out of it for three years doesn't mean I'm finished with it. If I can find the right vehicle to interest some sponsor, I'll be back. The only trouble is the industry has changed drastically since I had my "Dragnet" series on the air. It's actually appalling how TV seems to have drifted into the same rut it used to accuse the motion pictures of being in. More and more it's gone in for violence and sex, although the top people are now taking a good hard look at the picture, in this respect. And certainly, with the FCC castigating it, television will almost have to improve its programming. When I feel the time is propitious, I'll return to television—but not before. First, I'd like to see TV clean its own house.

Don't misunderstand. I'm not knocking the medium. After what it did for me and Joe Friday, I could never knock it. After all, it hadn't been for TV, I might have been a clothing salesman all my life.

But I want to wait a while before I get back into it. And I think it will take a little time before the public fully forgets the image it had of me as Friday—the policeman.

I've got an idea I've been working on, based on articles from a national magazine, which would make a tremendously exciting TV series. I own the rights of this, and who knows — maybe something will come of it in the future.

Right now I'm working on feature films — for the movies. With Bob Mitchum, Frances Nuyen and Martha Hyer, we did a comedy called "The Last Time I Saw Archie."

In a month or two, we'll know how successful we were. Why? The answer is simple — economics. I can come out of a feature film with at least the same amount of money as I would out of a TV series with much less of a personal work load.

And I don't have to sell commercials — just tickets.

PROBE INTO JEFF CHANDLER DEATH ASKED

HOLLYWOOD — The Screen Actors Guild will be asked to investigate circumstances of the death of movie star Jeff Chandler, television cowboy Clint Walker said Tuesday.

Walker, star of the TV series "Cheyenne," said about 70 persons have signed a petition asking the guild to appoint a special fact-finding committee to probe the death.

Chandler, 42, died in Culver City Hospital June 17 after three operations and a month-long battle for life. Death was attributed to blood poisoning.

Board Deadlocked on Water Co. Application

The appeal of Palm Desert Water Co. against County Planning Commission approval of a permit to Panorama Mutual Water Co. to put in a well on the northwest corner of Paintbrush Street and Deep Canyon Road in the Palm Desert area hangs in limbo as the result of a tie vote by the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor George Berkey said the controversy between Panorama and two other water companies who already have wells on adjacent and nearby property should be settled by agreement among themselves, peaceably or through court action. He argued that Panorama doesn't have many cards to play unless they have the permit in hand.

"If they have the permit in hand they'll certainly go ahead and put in the well without bothering to come to an agreement with the other two companies (Shadow Hills Water Co. and Palm Desert Water Co.)," argued Supervisor Fred

McCall. "To give them the permit would certainly be to give them the trump card, — a stacked deck in fact."

A motion by Supervisor Berkey to give Panorama the permit failed to get a second. Supervisor Norman Davis indicated that he agreed with Berkey, but as board chairman he cannot second a motion.

Supervisor McCall made a motion to deny the permit. This was supported by Supervisor Williams Jones and opposed by Supervisors Berkey and Davis, resulting in the tie vote. Supervisor Paul Anderson was absent.

As it now stands the matter will automatically come before the board next Monday. Anderson is expected to be back from his vacation. Jones will be in Alaska.

The board has 10 days in which to reach a decision. County Counsel Ray Sullivan said the tie vote leaves the matter undecided. He expressed a "tentative opinion" that when there is an appeal of a Planning Commission decision the jurisdiction to grant vests in the board of supervisors and that in the absence of three votes to grant the permit it can't be granted.

Disney to Talk At Denmark July 4 Events

REBILD, Denmark (U) — Walt Disney will be the main speaker at this year's Fourth of July gathering at Rebild's national park, the only place outside the United States where America's Independence Day is celebrated by another nation.

King Frederik IX and Queen Ingrid will take part in the celebrations. It is expected that the three royal princesses will attend also for the first time.

Other speakers will be Prime Minister Viggo Kampmann and a new American ambassador to Denmark, William McCormick Blair Jr.

It was hoped President Kennedy would follow the example of his predecessor and send a recorded greeting to 30,000 to 50,000 Danes and Danish-Americans expected to gather that day.

The Fourth of July has been celebrated at the heather-covered Rebuild hills in northern Jutland since 1912 when the Rebuild National Park Board Inc. of Illinois, a nonprofit corporation, bought the area and presented it to the Danish king upon initiative of Dr. Max Henius of Chicago.

Main attractions this year include the UCLA 90-member marching band, presently touring Europe, and the Danish-American Dana Choir.

Fairgrounds Improvement Bid 'Too Late'

A request for an allocation of $52,800 for Indio fairgrounds improvements has been filed by the Board of Supervisors.

The improvements proposed include improvements of the newly acquired 20 acres, $15,000; new and improved box stalls, $8,000; new restrooms, $17,100; addition to administration offices, $10,000; and pavement of driveway, $2,700.

Observers commented that the fair board request for an allocation for general fund money for the improvements came a bit late, the preliminary budget having been approved with a probable 20 - cent increase in the tax rate.

June Rescue Calls High

By KEN REICH

"The guys don't sit around as much as you think. My wife thinks I've really got the guts, but the people have got to have us when they need us."

The man who made this statement is a local fireman. In the wake of Tuesday's Palm Springs drownings attention was focused on occasions other than fires when the department's efforts are needed.

In four swimming pool deaths this month department personnel, all of whom have received advanced Red Cross training, used the resuscitator units they bought several years ago with profits made from the annual Firemen's Ball to try to revive the victims. This week they were unsuccessful. Both people were too far gone to save.

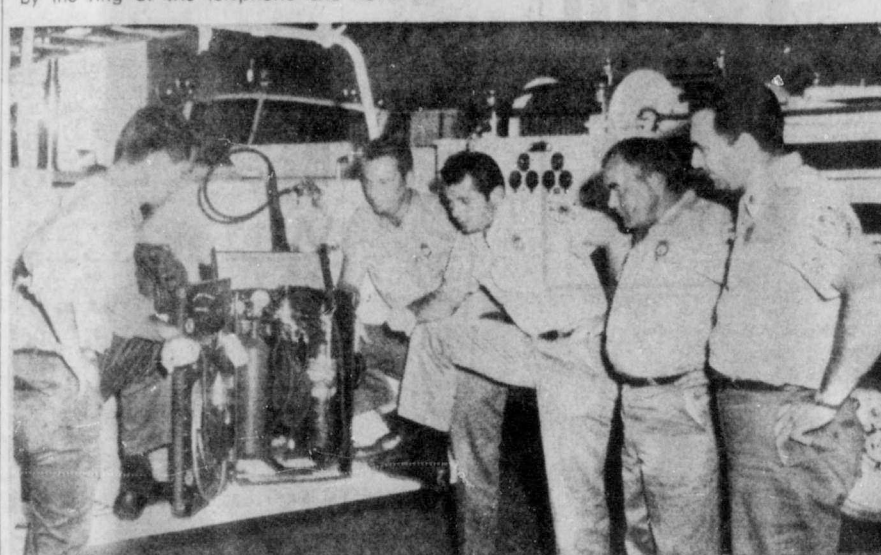

But oftentimes they are successful. The firemen mention with pride the woman they pulled out of a burning room at the Riverside Arms Hotel last winter and revived after using the resuscitator for more than an hour.

And the firemen are able to do more than use the resuscitator. "If people only knew what they could call us for, we'd get a lot more calls than we do," Larry Deason of Fire Station No. 1 says.

What will the firemen do? Well, they will go down a chimney to get an owl out. The firemen who did this recently comments that it "came in black from head to toe, with that one."

They will get people out of locked rooms. The worst experience the locals can remember along this line was the time they were summoned to get a man out of a small bathroom. They found that he was wedged against a door which opened in, and was unconscious. But they broke open the top of the door and got him out.

Palms Springs firemen relax on a quiet afternoon at Fire Station No. 1. But in the back of their minds is the possibility that the peacefulness could be momentarily shattered by the ring of the telephone and news of a possible tragedy somewhere in the city. Three times this month firemen rolled on emergency swimming pool rescue calls. (Desert Sun Photo)

IN HOT WATER

Or there was the time the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan office here had a hot-water pipe break. The department picked up more than 250 gallons of water off the floor and think that if they had got there just a little later the weight of the liquid would have caused the structure to collapse.

"About the only thing we don't touch," Battalion Chief Charles Goff says, "is a cat on a telephone pole. We refer those to the humane officer."

Of course, the most important work the firemen do concerns the rescue of human beings. The department is too small to have any men specially assigned to this, but all 27 full-time firemen are well trained and fully equipped for rescue work.

In the case of suffocation in water or fire briefs seconds make the difference.

Red China's People's Communes Greatly Modified

By ARTHUR J. DOMMEN

HONG KONG — If Mao Tse-tung's gift to communism is the people's commune—exists in China today in name only.

The commune in which millions of peasants are now beginning the annual wheat harvest and transplanting rice seedlings is a very different thing from what was hailed by the Peking authorities in 1958 as the final step on the road to communism.

It is heavily infiltrated with private enterprise and capitalistic incentives. Its planners have been castigated for overzealousness and its leaders charged with mismanagement.

Yet Mao himself has yet to admit that the system of people's communes is basically unsound. Observers in this listening post believe he never will.

If the natural disasters, which have plagued China's harvest for two years in succession, let up this summer, observers say the communes will continue to exist in their present modified form. Just as Mao has exploited the peasant to build up his country into a modern industrialized socialist state, so he will keep the level of concessions to peasant discontent just above the point at which he rises to open revolt, these observers believe.

This view is supported by the development of China's agricultural economy under the Communists. The first transition for the peasants—from mutual aid teams to cooperatives—was not an altogether smooth one. In the spring of 1955, Peking discovered the peasants were not joining newly formed cooperatives "voluntarily." But there were growing signs of anger at having their ownership of land tampered with. At that point there was a tempo-

Dodgers Blast Bucs

Mound
Duel Brings
9-5 Win

PITTSBURGH — UPI — Don Drysdale (5-4) will handle the pitching chores for the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight as they go against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Joe Gibbon (5-3) will pitch for the Pirates.

In Tuesday night's game, the Dodgers exploited a Pittsburgh weakness by battering five Pirate pitchers for 16 hits and a 9-5 victory over the World Champions.

John Roseboro got three hits in four official times at bat and drove in three runs, while Wally Moon and Norm Larker each accounted for a pair of tallies to lead the Dodgers' hit parade. Junior Gilliam also got three hits and drove in a run.

Starter Bob Friend was shelled from the mound in the third inning after he had surrendered eight hits and six runs. Fred Green, rushed in to stem the tide, gave up four hits and a run. Single tallies were yielded by Bobby Shantz and Clem Labine.

The only break in the Pirate pitching came by "Vinegar Bend" Mizell, who held the Dodgers hitless and scoreless in his two-inning stint.

Although the Pirates rapped out 14 hits, they were unable to bunch their safeties effectively. They missed a scoring chance in the third inning when the bases loaded when Bill Virdon grounded out to retire the side.

Dick Farrell, who succeeded starter Johnny Podres in the third inning, picked up his sixth victory against five defeats.

Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh, in an effort to regain a winning touch, revamped his infield by replacing second baseman Bill Mazeroski with Dick Schofield and sending Johnny Logan to captain Dick Groat's shortstop position.

Logan responded with a double but was stranded. Schofield contributed a single. Groat, the 1960 National League batting champ, pinch-hit for Mizell in the sixth but flied out.

The Dodgers scored a pair of runs in the first inning and four in the third when Friend made his departure. The runner-ups scored single tallies in the seventh and ninth innings.

The Pirates scored an unearned run in the seventh inning when Roberto Clemente singled but was forced by Dick Stuart who came around following Don Hoak's single and Tommy Davis' error.

Giants Crash
Over Phillies
In 12-5 Win

PHILADELPHIA — UPI — The San Francisco Giants today finally had an inkling of why Philadelphia is solidly in the National League cellar.

The Phils had looked like a first division club against San Francisco before Tuesday night by splitting their first 10 encounters in tightly played contests. But the Phillies rolled over and played dead Tuesday night as the Giants roared to a 12-5 win.

It was a necessary win for the Giants since Cincinnati and Los Angeles also triumphed and thus stayed five and two games ahead of San Francisco respectively.

Rookie Gets Nod
The Giants continue their battle with the Phils tonight as rookie lefty Dick LeMay (1-0) faces one of Philadelphia's toughest moundsmen, Chris Short (2-3).

The Giants pounded four Philadelphia hurlers for 13 hits Tuesday night, but it was a pair of errors by catcher Clay Dalrymple that helped San Francisco the most.

Rookie catcher Tom Haller finally found his batting eye to lead the Giants with two hits good for three runs-batted-in. Orlando Cepeda continued to rocket hits off the walls in frightening fashion and he had three hits good for two runs-batted-in.

Sands Blast CVSL 12-5 In League Lead Threat

Massey Rock and Sand crept closer to first place in the Desert Softball League at the Polo Grounds last night with a 12-5 defeat of Coachella Valley Savings and Loan. They are now one-half game back of the leading Chuck's Welders in the standings.

In the first game, the Mexican Colony edged the Telephone Co., 2-1.

For awhile it looked as if Massey might be the victim of an upset. Twice the score was tied and it remained knotted at 4-4 until the seventh inning. Then suddenly Massey exploded.

The Sanders scored eight times in a wild inning which saw 13 men bat and was featured by Paul Dunn's homerun and triples by Leo Rios and Bob Lara.

Sal Valdivia, Sr., the winning pitcher, ran into trouble at the start when the first three men to face him hit and scored. Dag Durand led off with a single. Larry Sitter then singled and Jim Montoya hit a two run triple to spark the Coachella Valley rally.

Massey came back in the second inning to tie it up at 3-3 in a surge sparked by Richard Luzano.

In the other game, the Telephone Company's Jim Bigley and the Mexican Colony's Frank Prieto waged a tight pitcher's duel through the entire contest.

The Colony went ahead 1-0 on singles by Art Jurado and Rudy Martinez in the fourth, but the Telephone Co. tied it on singles by Mike Dillely and Frank Kibbey in the same inning.

The game was won in the fifth when Prieto singled and was sacrificed home.

TEACHER LEADS WARD IN STATE GOLF JOUST

PEBBLE BEACH — UPI — The favorites, with the exception of ill-fated former national amateur champion Harvie Ward, pushed into the third round of the 50th annual State Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Defending champion Larry Bouchey, national public links King Verne Callison, 1960 state runner-up Jack Bariteau, former champion Elmer Clites, 1958 runner-up Dick Runkle and former national public links champ Gene Andrews all won second round matches.

But Ward, the San Francisco automobile salesman who has won the U.S. amateur crown twice and the British amateur once, ran in to a buzz saw and was handed one of the most humiliating defeats of his career.

Seymour Black, an unheralded schoolteacher from Monterey Park blistered Ward with a 6-5 shellacking—going five-under-par for the 13 holes played.

ANGEL HOMERS CLAIM 7-6 WIN OVER YANKS

LOS ANGELES — UPI — Ryne Duren, whose relief pitching helped the Yankees win pennants and the World Series, tonight takes the mound for the Los Angeles Angels for the first time against his former New York teammates.

The bespectacled fast-ball hurler will attempt to make it two straight for the Angels over the Yanks, although he only has a 2-8 record this season. Bob Turley, 3-4, will oppose Duren.

Veteran infielder Eddie Yost delighted a crowd of 16,108 last night by getting his first home run of the season with two men on base to send the Angels in front, 7-6, and there they remained.

Another ex-Yankee Pitcher, Eli Grba saved the victory for starter Ted Bowsfield by pitching the final three innings, in which he gave up only one hit and no runs. Bowsfield now is 4-2.

Yost, just getting back his batting eye after having been laid up for a month earlier in the season with a broken hand, drove in four of the seven Angel runs. The other three also came on a three-run homer by Ken Hunt, still another ex-Yankee, in the first inning.

The game was marred by eight errors, five charged to the Angels and three to the Yankees. Bud Daley, who worked five innings for the Bombers and took the loss, gave up only three earned runs.

Billy Gardner's error in the first inning on what should have been the third out was followed by Hunt's homer and Daley made his own misdeed in the third inning before Yost singled in a run.

Only three of the Yankee runs were earned. They scored a pair in the second on Bob Cerv's homer and another untainted run in the fifth on Gardner's homer. But then three Angel errors followed three unearned runs to come home.

Rickey Has Heart Attack

SUDBURY, Ont. UPI — Branch Rickey expressed more concern today about the plight of the Pittsburgh Pirates than about his second heart attack in three years, at 5 a.m. Tuesday.

The 79-year-old Rickey, founder of baseball's farm system and one-time president of the Pirates, was in "satisfactory" condition at Sudbury Memorial Hospital following a "severe attack" at his Canadian fishing camp Tuesday.

"He's a sick man, the poor guy," said Dr. J.A. Henry, "but he's still up to taking ribs about the Pirates."

Rickey was rushed here by plane from his camp at Little Current on Manitoulin Island, 95 miles away. He refused to leave this camp, however, without his transistor radio.

"He wanted to be sure to hear how the Pirates made out," said Rusty Blakey, the pilot of the plane, who added that Rickey talked continually about baseball as he was being prepared for the flight.

The bushy-browed Rickey was to have been honored this weekend in Pittsburgh by the Dale Carnegie Alumni Association as winner of the group's "humanitarian of the year" award.

CRANDALL GETS CHECK UP

MILWAUKEE — UPI — Del Crandall remained home for further examination of his left shoulder Sunday and did not accompany the Milwaukee Braves to St. Louis.

The all-star catcher has been troubled all season by a strained triceps muscle.

PITCHER GETS BONUS

CHICAGO — UPI — Mike De-gerick, who pitched teaneck high school to the 1960 New Jersey state championship, has signed a bonus contract in excess of $50,000 with the Chicago White Sox. The bonus is the largest in White Sox history.

DONKEY SERENADE will include comic softball at the Pologrounds at 8 p. m. Friday, in a benefit drive for the PS Little League and the city recreation department's sports program. Funds go for equipment, umpire expenses. Gifts for local boys and youngsters selling most tickets are donated by merchants.

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

With only three days to go until vacation starts ... it's time to clean out the desk and get things off the spindle that have been there all winter long ... time to use up the odds and ends that were inspirations at the time ... Like mentioning those frustrating butterfly shrimp arrangements ... that effectively block the way in to the shrimp cocktail ... and are undoubtedly responsible for more tomato sauce stains on tablecloths than any other one item ... Like telling you what happened when all I did was order sanku (this is not the same thing as when I ordered Irish coffee ... made with sanku ... although that went over big too) ...

This is what happened ... The waitress paused momentarily as she went by ... and inquired "Coffee" ... As she went on by ... I replied "no ... sanku" ... and darned if she didn't call back over her shoulder ... "You're welcome" ...

The Herb Siemsen will get away from Smoke Tree for a couple of weeks ... going up to Squaw Valley ... where they will occupy the Disney house (Walt's in Europe right now) ... and to Monterey ... But they'll hasten back to keep an eye on the building program at Smoke Tree ... where three new cottages are being built ... in addition to a new recreation room and lanai room in the poolside area ...

Following the graduation of their daughter Melissa from Palm Valley School ... the George Murphys sold their Smoke Tree home to the Dale Clarks of Omaha ... Mrs. Clark is the former Kay Young ... a former Colonist ... and Clark is chairman of the board of Omaha National Bank ...

The Hawaiian King is the destination of Marian and Cliff Henderson ... who jet to Hawaii on July 1 ... Their friends Mayor and Vari McKinley (of the L. A. firm of Utter - McKinley) will join them there for a two or maybe three week stay ... Returning to the mainland ... the Hendersons will return to Palm Desert briefly ... before flying to Detroit ... where they will pick up their new car and start back across the continent ... getting home to Palm Desert about the first of September ...

Elsinore Machris has gone back to Tecate and will spend several weeks there ... getting in shape for an around the world tour ... which will keep her away from home until next October ...

Add maritime strike score ... Rose Livingston has canceled her trip to Australia ... and will probably fly to Hawaii for the summer ...

Frankie Spitz writes from Paris from Hotel George V ... that the Queen Elizabeth had only 415 first class passengers (she listed Lawrence Olivier and his "very pregnant wife" ... Clifton Webb and Anita Louise Adler and children) ... and that the airlines are only half-filled ... She deduces that "people are either fearful ... or heading for the Orient" ...

She writes ... "Paris is as always beautiful ... lights ... flowers ... crowded sidewalk cafes ... Everyone's still agog over Jack and Jackie Kennedy" ... There are a few plastic bombs being thrown ... but it's Paree" ... Frankie is getting reading to go to Yugoslavia on UN business ...

More Mailbag: Bertha and Ed Robbin write from Red Wing, Minnesota ... where they have stopped on their summer tour to visit winter visitor Bess Betcher ... Bertha writes that Bess's home covers a city block ... and that she has never seen such gardens (Bess just won first prize for her roses in the Red Wing Garden Show) ... The Robbins were heading on for Chicago by way of Montreal ... which is just about the longest way around ...

Marj Pohl's postcard comes from La Paz, Baja California ... where she is with the Bob Whites and their daughter Vicki ... About the trip down she writes ... "Had a wonderful trip down ... 28 days camping each night ... The road could only be believed if you drove it" ... They have stopped en route at many beautiful spots ... and continue to the tip of Baja California ... before starting to re-trace their way home ...

A picture postcard of Emerald Bay at Lake Tahoe ... comes from Helen Lloyd ... She's spending a few days there with Dr. and Mrs. Saunders ... and they had all had dinner at North Shore Beach Club (Harold and Florence Murphy's place) and Helen writes ... "Gorgeous food. What a spot!" ... "I did not make this up ... It really happened ... believe it or not ..."

Bay leaf is one of the more pungent herbs.

They are, from left, Mrs. Agnes Tanner of Long Beach, Mrs. Joan McManus and Mrs. Austin McManus, first lady of Palm Springs, who were warmly welcomed on their arrival. Mrs. Tanner is the widow of Talma Tanner, and her two brothers married the other two sisters-in-law. Joan, social director of the Tennis Club, flew back Monday night, after learning of the death of her close friend Mrs. Juana Warner, but the other two women will continue their holiday in the Islands. It was a first trip to Hawaii for the three sisters-in-law. (Halekulani Photo)

Lana to Enter Cheryl in Special Eastern School

Lana Turner has flown to the east coast with her daughter, Cheryl Crane, 17, and plans to enroll her in a school that specializes in therapy. Last Friday, Cheryl, who came out of 11 days' hiding to answer charges that she was in danger of leading a lewd and dissolute life, was allowed to remain in her mother's custody providing she be placed in a private school. Cheryl, disappeared June 12, the day after she and two other teen-agers were arrested for an alleged drinking party at her maternal grandfather's home. Cheryl, who was cleared after she fatally stabbed her mother's admirer, Johnny Stompanato, in 1958, was also accompanied on the trip east Monday by the actress' fifth husband, businessman Fred May.

Signs of Welfare Sense

Our news sources in Washington report there is some evidence up there of grass roots resentment against loose and open-handed administration of public relief for the needy and indigent.

It is apparently with knowledge of recent widespread protest against California's poorly handled aid to needy children program in mind that reports were sent along outlining similar problems across the nation.

Good examples are provided in reports on chiselers from Oregon to New York state.

Up in Oregon the aid plan simply requires that able bodied persons receiving public welfare funds must work on public projects, road maintenance, maintenance of county buildings and such. A reliever who is able but refuses work on public projects offered by the county is dropped from relief rolls, instantly.

Such public work earns the worker $1 an hour, plus expenses for necessary special clothing or equipment and something for extra food. One Oregon county undertook this program in 1959. It was in operation almost statewide last winter and will be resumed during the season of slack employment.

In the Oregon experiment some relievers suddenly found private employment when confronted with a choice between public work at $1 an hour or being separated from the relief rolls.

The New York Times devoted all the news matter on a single page of its Sunday edition to the Newburgh experiment. This city of 30,000 has proceeded further than Oregon into the problem of relief costs and chiselers. Newburgh provides public work as does Oregon under similar conditions.

Mothers of illegitimate children in Newburgh have been told that another illegitimate birth will deprive them of relief aid. The homes of children receiving aid must be found satisfactory on inspection. If otherwise, the child is placed in foster care in lieu of welfare aid to the family's adults.

Relief is denied in Newburgh to applicants who quit work voluntarily, being neither fired nor laid off.

Newburgh authorities explain that 1,380 persons of population of 30,000 are on relief. The cost is $938,000 of a $3 million annual budget. Thus 95 per cent of the population has been spending one-third of its money to support 5 per cent of the population.

June is not only the month of brides. It is also the time when young men and women leave the ivy walls of the colleges and go forth to seek their fortunes. This year, despite the recession that fortunately seems to be receding, job chances for college people seem to be about as good as they were last year. There are still about 4 million jobless. But for some who are technically trained, such as engineering graduates, it's a case of sitting back and waiting for the job offers to flow in. According to a survey by Northwestern University covering 210 firms across the nation, starting salaries for engineers will be about $520 a month. The same rate hold for chemists, physicists, and others with scientific training.

Other trained people such as accountants, salesmen, and business trainees will get between $425 and $450 a month to start. Junior executives, merchandising men, women with science degrees, technical writers, and secretaries are among those most eagerly sought. Although the survey shows job opportunities in general to be down about 3.2 per cent, the salary range is up about 2.5 per cent.

The government itself is becoming one of the big sources of employment, and for many students who suffer the handicap of race it's a welcome haven. A Civil Service Commission representative is now completing a six-month tour of Negro colleges, during which he is encouraging qualified seniors to apply for employment in the Federal Government. Placing Negro engineers is not a problem, however, every one of the 500 to 600 who will graduate will probably have a job to go to. All other 12,000 Negro graduates are not so fortunate.

The surveys also show that it pays well to have good academic standing. Recruiters in the colleges are particularly anxious to line up those who are in the top third of the class. Who says the egghead is not having his day?

How Soon the Next Eruption?

Dear Abby . . .

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Since my birth I have gone to the doctor who delivered me. He is a pediatrician, and a wonderful one. My complaint is that I am now 13 years old, and I think I should stop going to a pediatrician and go to a regular doctor. My mother won't hear of my going to another physician until I am 16. I hate to walk into his office and see mothers and little tiny babies there. Can you help me change my mother's mind?

BABIED GIRL

DEAR BABIED: Believe it or not, many girls (by their own choice) have continued going to their pediatricians until they've married. But if you prefer a "regular doctor," enlist the help of your pediatrician. He may be able to persuade your mother to "graduate you" and recommend a physician for adults.

DEAR ABBY: I met a man I fell for hard. He is perfect for me in every way except one, religion. I am not wishy-washy about my religion. I am a devout believer, and support my church. He says he will marry me if I change my religion to his. And he has given me one week to make up my mind. I am bewildered and heart sick, because I love this man, but I can't forsake my church and join his.

I know he loves me. What shall I do?
DEAR TORN: He may love you, but he loves himself more. Tell him you will be more generous than he . . . you will give him all the time he wants to find a woman of his own faith. Forget him.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much confused. I read in a book some where that you can get pregnant from kissing. Is this true?

DEAR CONFUSED: Don't believe everything you read — but please believe this. It is NOT true.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Suspicious," whose husband leaves the house at 4:30 in the morning to get to a job at 7:30 not to be suspicious. I had the same problem. My husband did (and still does) the same thing. I made him go to a doctor and the doctor told me not to worry. He said my husband was a worrier and to leave him alone. He drives to work before daylight every morning to be sure he gets a parking space.

You Killing Your Husband?

Since the insurance is paid up and the last medical checkup, well—"Frankly, I wish I had your arteries," said the medic. (Of course he could have meant for experimental purposes. But I choose to take it the other way.)

Since all these things are well, let us talk of pleasant things.

"Wives may soon be able to stop worrying about killing their husbands with saturated fats."

That is good news. I have been worrying about wives worrying. And am glad we can ALL stop worrying.

A wife scragging the breadwinner has always fascinated me. And when I was hammering purple prose for the dailies, I unleashed the ultraviolet for the ladies with the smoking pistol.

This is legitimate material for a historian of the day's woes.

"I loved him! I gunned him because I loved him."

Now, thanks to scientific research, it appears that many other hausfrau's have been laying their ever-loving husbands low.

They cooked them to their reward.

"There are more ways of killing a cat than by stuffing it with butter," my grandma used to quote.

However, stuffing them with butter will work. (This cat is stuffing himself with margarine and intends to live forever.)

The regrettable demise of many a power of industry, it seems, is due to being buttered up.

The cholesterol is what does it. And cholesterol is what we are getting rid of.

Well, for years I buttered my toast on both sides — "It makes you grow big and strong," said my family. "Eat the crusts," they said. "It makes your hair curly." I grew up without curly hair and full of cholesterol.

Another thing, toast often has charcoaled edges. Charcoal is a recent Bad Guy discovered by scientists.

Scientists at a Michigan conference selected rats. (Selected for what I don't know. Maybe because they liked charcoal.)

What happened to them shouldn't happen to a rat. It killed them, man! Murdered them.

All sorts of dietary things are being uncovered. The spinach of our youth? It puts rocks in your plumbing. Very painful.

Milk? "Drink up all your milk or you'll never get big." The calcium in milk might turn you to stone.

About this cholesterol — what occurred to me was all the fuss that went on when some lass, alas, uncorked the 45. BAM!

"Joe was a good man. I loved him so I blasted him, the hell!" Better she should have kept him home and fed him burnt, buttered toast.

We print these things only in the public interest. It is against our policy to pass out interesting ways to polish off husbands.

"Chloixin, a relative of the thyroid hormone, lowers cholesterol levels without side effects."

(De-coding this means the new stuff lets you stuff on butter. It unloads cholesterol without "side effects." A "side effect" is when the thing works only it kills you.)

This wonder drug is coming onto the U. S. market soon. Thus ending a fascinating era in which the frying pan was more deadly than the Colt.

Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition.

An Election Won't Alter Things Much

By Holmes Alexander

RICHMOND, VA. — After the Democratic primary election on July 11, Virginia will be very much the same — or only a little bit different.

If the former Commonwealth Attorney General, Albert S. Harrison, wins the nomination and becomes Governor, it will be because the Old Dominion likes and appreciates the leadership it has had under Senator Harry Flood Byrd since the time of his governorship in the late 1920's.

The Byrd organization, like no other in America, has combined the patrician ideal of noblesse oblige with the hard principles of thrift and the inflexible practices of honesty. For going on 40 years Virginia has been virtually without political scandal, almost totally free of organized crime without visible racial conflict until the mild disturbances of late, pay-as-you-go in finances and conscientious yet colorful in its public personalities.

Why Change

It may well be asked — why change? — and very likely the question will answer itself in the victory of Candidate Harrison, choice of the Byrd organization, a handsome, suave, able traditionalist of the best school.

Harrison's running mate for Lieutenant Governor is Mills Goodwin, a strong and unapologetic States' Rightist who will get his heaviest vote in Prince Edward County where the local officials are offering private education to all students, white and negro, rather than run public, segregated schools.

There are other Virginia communities where the Prince Edward example is highly regarded as a courageous test case — and Goodwin's position will help him in something like six of the ten Congressional districts.

But if the anti-Byrd ticket should win the primary and election, the change would not be radical. The opposition gubernatorial candidate, A. E. Stephens (cordially known as GI — for giraffe because he is 7 feet 5 inches tall) was an organization conservative for 30 years, and is now Lieutenant Governor. Only last March, having failed to get the Byrd endorsement, Stephens began to kick down the fences.

Break with Byrd
Personal ambition, fed with the wild oats of Labor organization support, seems to have done this to Stephens, but he is a man of such vigor and spirit that his friends do not expect him to wear the lividity of the AFL-CIO very willingly or very long. Yet these same qualities in Stephens caused him to break with Senator Byrd in a manner that seems to make reconciliation out of the question even by the lax loyalties of political association.

On May 12, Stephens went into the Shenandoah Valley, the very heartland of the Byrd domain, and in this Cherry Blossom Queen City of Winchester, made a speech of deliberate treason. Of the Byrd organization he said:

"Today, the Inner Circle is almost reduced to a father-son deal, and personally I consider it a tragedy . . . The machine stifles ambition . . . crushes incentive as you and I crush the butt of a cigarette."

This horrendous utterance, rather than Stephens' political record, convictions or intentions, is what has made the Virginia gubernatorial contest a recognizable though imperfect clash of the Old Regime vs. the New Frontier. Added to the open Labor support, the Stephens ticket has the tacit and enthusiastic approval of the NAACP, and of the Kennedy Administration. All politically-conscious Virginians fear or hope as the case may be, that the Byrd organization is locked in a struggle that will test its mettle as seldom before.

Both tickets have plans to improve education and industrialization in Virginia. But Harrison will move with caution while Stephens will try innovation. With Harrison as Governor, Virginia will continue to resist Federal aids and controls, whereas with Stephens as Governor the resistance will not collapse, although it will be compromised.

Janov Sees Great Need In His Field

By KEN REICH

Dr. Arthur Janov, a personable young psychotherapist who writes The Desert Sun's psychology column and is one of those who should know, goes along with a recent study which concluded that one quarter to one third of the American public are in need of some type of psychiatric care.

"When you find yourself unable to function in the way you want to, or be what you want to be, within reasonable limits of course, then you need care," the youthful Palm Springs doctor told me.

This would mean a lot more activity for psychologists, but Janov thinks most of his fellow-practitioners are underworked now. The trend, he feels, is toward a greatly expanded role in society for psychology.

The handsome doctor hardly looks the stereotype of the psychologist. Appearing robustly healthy and not at all preoccupied with weighty matters of the mind, he is an avid tennis player and loves good jazz.

Not only does he love jazz, but he plays it himself. While in the Brentwood V. A. Neuropsychiatric Hospital he organized and played in a jazz combo known as the "Psychopathic Syncopators" and belonged to a local of the musician's union.

Janov is also a veteran of seven sea battles in the Pacific campaign of World War II. He saw further action in the Aleutian Islands and as a commando in the European theater.

But lest he be thought too unacademic for his serious profession, it must be quickly pointed out that Janov has no less than twelve years of higher education in his background, which is pretty exceptional even for psychologists.

Not Satisfied
Upon completing his undergraduate work at Oregon State, where he majored in political science, he decided that his college degree "didn't lead to anything."

This decision, plus a desire to "see what makes people tick," led directly to graduate work at UCLA, USC, and Claremont. He presently holds two graduate degrees, was selected at Claremont to give the annual intercollegiate graduate studies lecture in psychology, and has four years of practical experience in the Beverly Hills Psychiatric Clinic and the Los Angeles Children's Hospital.

Mention psychology and most people think immediately of the famed German doctor, Sigmund Freud, but Janov is one of many young students of the field who is not completely sold on Freud.

"The trouble with being Freudian," he states, "is that it is too narrow. It is not the complete story. Most of us lean on Freud heavily, but some of us have gone on to new concepts. Freud isn't gospel. It is a doctrine or set of principles which must be reworded."

Describing himself as a "rational psychotherapist," Janov maintains that his focus "is more on what goes on consciously, rather than unconsciously."

No Panacea

He readily admits that psychology can't solve everything, stating that "psychology is not the panacea for the earth's great problems. You don't make a better world by treating everyone."

What psychology is for, in his view, "is to help people to stand on their own two feet. A psychologist never wants his patients to be too dependent on him."

As far as his personal practice goes, the doctor frankly concedes that he gets emotionally involved with his patients, though he emphatically asserts that this doesn't spoil his objectivity.

But he does add that he never takes anyone he really doesn't like for fear he "wouldn't want to help him."

The doctor moved to Palm Springs three years ago and resides at 1005 La Jolla Road here. Married for 12 years, he has two children, a boy 5 and a girl 8.

True rest is not that of torpor, but that of harmony . . . not resting from duty, but finding rest in it.

Polio Vaccine Boosted by AMA

NEW YORK (U.P.) — The American Medical Association drug council reported today that the new Sabin oral polio vaccine "presents an opportunity to eliminate poliomyelitis as a significant public health problem."

It urged physicians to take the lead in sparking mass community vaccination when the new vaccines become available. However, until that time doctors should encourage the widest possible use of the Salk vaccine, it said.

The Sabin vaccine is swallowed. The Salk vaccine is injected. It has been in use since 1955. Reporting to the policy-making house of delegates of the AMA, the council on drugs pointed out:

"Since Salk vaccine generally fails to protect against alimen-

Redistricting Given Approval By Councilmen

Revision of City Council districts in Palm Springs was approved as recommended by the Planning Commission by the council and it was indicated voter approval will be sought next fall or winter.

The new districts were accepted without protest as outlined in the map recently published in The Desert Sun after it was reported that legislation passed in Sacramento still was awaiting signature by Gov. Edmund Brown.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker explained that the change over from present councilmanic representation will become effective at the end of the incumbent officers' terms, which could affect the council election next spring.

The redistricting must be approved in a special election before it becomes effective and December was mentioned as probably the best time for the ballot.

Parker Takes Over Hallmark

Kenny Parker has become the new owner of Hallmark Television at 192 S. Indian Ave. Manager of the store since 1959.

Parker bought out the former owner, Peter Hall, and hopes to generally expand his operation. He has been in the wholesale television business since 1948 when he moved to California from his native Texas.

Parker said he plans to concentrate on color television.

He resides at 30-921 San Gabriel Circle and is a member of the Rotary Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

tary infection with wild polio-virus, the immunized individual can become a temporary shedder of polio virus."

Thus, while protected against paralytic polio, those inoculated with the Salk vaccine could pass it on to others, the report indicated.

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

Have you ever noticed how difficult it is to get anything organized? It doesn't matter whether it's a club meeting or a dinner date. Everybody's got to check, see, and report back.

My personal guess is that people unnecessarily complicate their lives. It starts in early childhood when, before pleasure, came the chores. One had always to be sure that everything was done and out of the way before other things could be enjoyed. Parents always said "no" much quicker than "yes," and there was always the twinge of anxiety when you asked your parents if you could do something.

The usual reply was "Have You cleaned your room, etc.?" Many of us have internalized all these reluctances, doubts and parental negativism, and when we grow up, we unconsciously put all these questions to ourselves before we make a move—only the form is different—"have we cleaned the house, etc.?"

We become no more capable of a direct and free "yes" to the person who invites us than our parents were to us when we asked if we could go somewhere. We ask ourselves "what should I be doing FIRST?"

This is also the story of the compulsive housecleaner. Doing chores first was a means to pleasure and now has become the end in itself. When one finally has time to lie out in the sun, it never lasts more than a few minutes before we place before ourselves the haunting question "What should I be doing instead?"

We are a culture of work—we greet each other with "working hard?" keeping busy? Rest, relaxation and fun are things we feel guilty about—perhaps because just lying around the house as kids was something seldom tolerated by parents.

It's the great fear of laziness—what will they be like later if they lie around and do nothing now? We transit our own fears of relaxation to our children. We never pose the question the other way—if they learn to work hard all the time when young, will they be able to relax and enjoy life when they're older?

Many articles have been written lately on "What To Do With Lei-

NEW YORK (UPI)—If a child must remain indoors, painting a self-portrait can be an afternoon's fun.

Tear off a length of shelf paper as tall as the child. Fasten it to the wall. Get out his paint box and give him some cotton swabs to use as little paint brushes. Have him try to draw a self-portrait in color. Usually, it takes hours.

sure Time." It has become the concern of our society. Perhaps people have a subconscious fear that they are incapable of directing their own free time. And so, leisure is organized for us. It seems that leisure needs to be a project (somewhat like work) before we can handle it.

Old Sayings About the Market that Need Repeating

Don't Wait for the Last Fraction

A prominent business man was instructing his son in the technique of success. He said:

"It's simple. Just buy at the bottom and sell at the top."

"Yes, Father," said the dutiful son . . . "How do I know which is which?"

Of course there's no way of knowing when the market in a stock has reached its lowest point. That's why people who hang on for the last one-eighth drop before buying are very likely to find they've missed the bus altogether.

For most investors—for you, very likely—the sensible thing is to talk with a Hornblower Representative. He's backed up by expert, knowledgeable research, and you can rely on his friendly advice about buying and selling securities. If you follow the market quotations, you'll know that right now there are many good quality stocks selling well below their recent highs. Will they be lower or higher before the end of the year? There is no answer which applies to all stocks. But we do feel that this is a logical time to consider selected issues, and we will be happy to make recommendations based on your personal needs.

Why not come in and talk to a Hornblower Representative soon?

P.S. Our current Market Letter, which discusses Homestake Mining, St. Joseph Lead, Pure Oil and Electric Bond & Share, is yours for the asking. Write or call for PS 60.
